Nanking's Threat Is Increased

NANKING, Nov. 15 (AP) — Red threats to Nanking increased today as communists surged southward from the Suchow area. A mounting breakup of national forces along the outer approaches to the capital was reflected in reports from the war area.

Neutral reports said Suchow was isolated. Others had a mechanized force 16 miles its way to the relief of trapped government troops east of the city.

Communist forces reached Suhsien, 135 miles northwest of Nanking. One report said the town was captured by the reds.

The railroad, connecting Pukow, across the Yangtze from Nanking, and Suchow, had been cut in several places. Government reinforcements moving up from Nanking were reported stranded in spots along the line. There were no reports from Suchow itself.

Charles Hayes, Salem, Mass., pilot of a plane that flew out 25 Catholic missionaries to Shanghai, said there were signs of heavy fighting near the Suchow airport, five miles east of the city.

On the political front President Chiang Kai-shek and top leaders met in Nanking to discuss a protest to the United Nations against alleged Russian aid to the reds. Reliable sources said no decision was reached but indicated a possible government statement later.

Talk of a "war cabinet" without Chiang died down.

In a desperate effort to save the Suchow situation, the government reportedly had thrown some of the weary troops wrested from the Manchurian port of Hulato into the battle. Also, three government divisions were landed at Lienyunkang, eastern terminus of the Lunghai railroad. They started a diversionary westward move.

Elsewhere there was news of two government setbacks in northwest operations and the arrival of American marines for guard duty in Tientsin.

A small detachment of leathernecks was flown from Tsingtao, U. S. navy base, to protect the American consulate and help evacuate Americans from north China. Nationalist soldiers looted Tientsin food shops Thursday. The whole area faces communist occupation if the reds win at Suchow.

U. S. Readies Aid Stoppage If Reds Gain

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — The economic cooperation administration was reported ready today to stop its aid-to-China program on 24 hours' notice if the far eastern situation worsens.

Informed sources said there is no indication that the $275,000,000 Chinese recovery program will be halted in the near future.

But they said Administrator Paul G. Hoffman and his staff are ready to stop daily authorizations to China whenever the situation there indicates that further recovery aid will fall into communist hands.

$23,277,000 Given

The recovery agency approved $23,277,000 worth of aid for China during the week that ended Nov. 10, ECA's weekly summary revealed today. To date, China has received $137,761,881 in ECA aid, or about half of her allotment for the first year's operations.

The money has been earmarked for wheat and wheat flour, rice, cotton, fertilizers, petroleum products, ocean freight and such technical services as surveys of China's industrial and economic needs.

Summary Released

ECA's weekly summary reported that it had approved total totaling $263,345,203 for 11 European nations, western Germany, Trieste and China.

France continued to lead all nations in amount of recovery aid received. She had been granted through Nov. 10 a total of $797,184,-044, with the next highest received $149,-399,929. Britain remained in second place with recovery aid totaling $632,244,347.

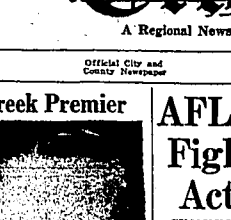

N. Y. Buyers Balk At Added Charge

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — New York wholesale buyers threatened to let $1,000,000 worth of fruits and vegetables rot on railroad piers today before they would accept an increased railroad handling charge and pass it on to the consumers.

Some 40 buyers came to market this morning but refused to buy. Receivers of shipments, principally from Florida and California, tried to get the daily auction started, but there were only nibbles from prospective buyers. Most of those from chain stores.

The buyers were notified over the week-end that the railroads would put into effect today a new fee for unloading produce. The buyers held a meeting before the scheduled start of the auctions and then announced that they would not pay the charge. The buyers insisted that the rate increase was a matter between the railroads and shippers and should not be passed on to wholesaler, retailer and consumer.

Solon Pleads Not Guilty on Salary Count

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, New Jersey Republican, today pleaded innocent to federal charges that he received salary "kickbacks" from his congressional employes.

At a surprise arraignment in federal district court, the chairman of the house un-American activities committee entered the not guilty pleas this afternoon.

He had been scheduled to appear tomorrow for arraignment on a federal grand jury indictment.

Red-Faced, Nervous

Red-faced and nervous, Thomas was placed under $1,000 bond by Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech.

The judge set Jan. 10 as trial date after U. S. Attorney George Morris Fay requested an "early trial."

Defense attorney William H. Collins was given until Nov. 29 to file motions in the case.

Thomas, who was re-elected to congress on Nov. 2, but will not be heading the un-American activities committee after the new Democratic-controlled congress organizes, was indicted on Nov. 8.

Other Violations

The indictment also charged Thomas with violating the so-called "false claims statute" by filing three pay vouchers with house of representatives authorities for persons on his payroll who allegedly did no work.

Thomas also specifically was charged in the federal grand jury indictment with conspiring to defraud the government by taking the alleged salary "kickbacks."

Indicted with Thomas was Helen Campbell, his former secretary. She was indicted on the conspiracy charge because she allegedly participated in the scheme with the congressman.

Ouster of Taft As GOP Chief Being Debated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP) — The possibility that Senator Taft of Ohio may decide to give up his senate GOP leadership post is being discussed in Republican congressional circles today.

Taft, now in Europe, may face a fight if he wants to remain as chairman of the senate Republican policy committee.

Some colleagues who class themselves as GOP liberals already are calling for a shakeup in their party's high command.

Record Aided Defeats

Their contention is that the record of the GOP-controlled 80th congress—which Taft helped write —contributed not only to the defeat of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the presidential candidate, but to the party's loss of both houses in the Nov. 2 election.

There is little doubt that if these Republicans make an issue of this contention, Taft would fight to retain the leadership.

On the other hand, some of the Ohio senator's friends say that if Taft isn't challenged openly, he may wish to step out of his own accord.

In Reelection Fight

They point out that Taft faces a reelection battle in Ohio in 1950. President Truman carried the state, which also elected a Democratic governor.

Taft may figure, his friends said, that any formal leadership duties would take so much time they would hamper his reelection campaign.

As the situation stands, Taft will go off the policy body automatically unless the Republican senators change the rules they adopted two years ago to rotate policy committee memberships. Those rules can be changed by a majority vote.

Rupert Man Found Dead in Own Auto

HEBER, Utah, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — A man identified by personal papers as George Henry Bowman, Rupert, Ida., was found dead at the wheel of his parked car today just west of Heber.

Officers said they believed death occurred from carbon monoxide fumes. The car motor and heater were running when the body was found.

AFL Will Fight T-H Act Votes

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15 (AP) — AFL President William Green said today the new objective for organized labor was to "defeat any member of congress who votes against repeal of the Taft-Hartley act."

Green keynoted the opening of the 67th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

He reviewed the work of the federation in contributing to President Truman's victory in the recent election and helping bring about a Democratic house and senate.

"Labor came through, met the issues bravely and won the greatest victory that labor has ever won," Green said.

"We do not meet here in a vindictive mood, but rather with a feeling of tolerance and desire to cooperate with all classes of people, to work together to make more free, to establish here in America, freedom, liberty and justice and to perpetuate our American form of government.

"Just as our objective was to defeat those who voted for the Taft-Hartley act, our new one is:

"Those who refuse to vote repeal must be defeated at the next election."

The 650 delegates took up Green's chant for "repeal, repeal, and repeal."

The AFL entered a Political league in the 1948 campaign for the first time in its history. The league never officially endorsed Mr. Truman, but 80 per cent of its backers worked for a Democratic victory, AFL leaders said.

In the congressional contests, the AFL—like the other labor political organizations—campaigned to beat lawmakers who voted for the Taft-Hartley act.

On the eve of the convention opening, the AFL council voted to demand outright repeal of the act, now that the Democratic party controls both houses of congress. As the basis for a new law which the labor organization would regard as fair to both employers and workers, the AFL leadership proposed a quick return to the Wagner act.

Higher Price Is Sought for Sugar Crops

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — The domestic cane sugar industry told the government today the price of sugar must be increased substantially next year to bring it in line with the cost of other commodities.

He said the price of sugar dropped eight per cent in 1948 while other prices rose from 5 to 15 per cent. He said the sugar industry, "to be fairly and equitably maintained," must be allowed an increase of $1.40 per hundred pounds of wholesale refined sugar.

First Witness

Robert H. Shields, Washington, D. C., former solicitor and general counsel for the United States Sugar association, was the first witness at department of agriculture hearings to determine how much sugar consumers will need in 1949. He said he represents between 85 and 90 per cent of this country's beet sugar producers.

Under the 1948 sugar act, the secretary of agriculture fixes the sugar consumption estimate for next year. Quotas are based partly on this estimate. Sugar producers in this country want the estimate kept lower than this year's.

Smaller Quotas

A low estimate would mean smaller quotas on sugar imports from Cuba and other foreign countries, and the world sugar prices up.

Shields said the wholesale price of 100 pounds of refined sugar today is $7.75, compared with $8.40 at the beginning of 1948.

"If the wholesale price of refined sugar today was in line with the general cost of living, the yardstick would be 10 cents sugar prices fair to both producers and consumers, the price would be $9.15," he said.

Forces Reduction

Failing prices, Shields said, has forced beet sugar production 30 per cent below the 1947 crop and 25 per cent below the 1,800,000 ton quota provided by the sugar act.

The industry wants the 1949 consumption estimate fixed at 6,900,000 tons. It was 7,500,000 this year.

Reinoehl Case Trial Started Here Today

The trial of Orville Reinoehl on a charge of attempted extortion began in district court about 10 a.m. Monday with the questioning of 12 prospective jurors, several of whom were replaced during the afternoon session of court before the jury was completed.

Although 25 persons on a supplementary jury panel had been called by order of the court, the jury was completed from the regular list.

Members of the jury are Mrs. M. T. Hardy, Mrs. Edna Bailey, I. V. Amos, Mrs. C. E. Teater, Harry Smock, Rodney Ewing, D. R. Turner, Mrs. Harvey M. Peters, Mrs. C. R. Chamberlain, Helen E. Caudle, E. O. Bickford and L. B. Tilley.

No prospective juror offered an excuse when Judge Hugh A. Baker asked at the start of the session if there was a reason anyone should be excused from jury duty. Prosecuting Attorney Everett M. Sweeley and Defense Attorney W. L. Dunn each spent about an hour in questioning prospective jurors as to their qualifications and other matters.

After court resumed at 1:30 p. m., both Sweeley and Dunn started using their peremptory challenges. First to be challenged was E. Herbst, challenged by Sweeley and replaced by Harry Smock. Next on the list was Mrs. Herman Oliffilan, who was challenged by Dunn and replaced by Mrs. C. E. Teater.

Mrs. Sturgeon McCoy was challenged by Sweeley and replaced by F. C. Graves who was challenged for cause when the admitted he had formed an opinion concerning the case. He was replaced by Mrs. J. O. Pumphrey who was later challenged by Sweeley and replaced by Harry S. Cowling, in turn to be replaced by Mrs. Edna Bailey after he admitted forming an opinion in the case.

Dunn used another of his peremptory challenges to dismiss H. L. Ainsworth, who was replaced by I. V. Amos. E. N. Pettygrove was dismissed after Sweeley had used another challenge. Dale Thompson was called and later replaced by Mrs. M. T. Hardy.

After both Dunn and Sweeley had waived use of their fifth peremptory challenges, the jury was complete.

When questioned during the morning session of court, several prospective jurors indicated they had opinions regarding slot machines but not against operation of slot machines in compliance with the law.

Taylor 'Willing' To Act as Demo In New Senate

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 (AP) — Sen. Glen H. Taylor, D., Ida., vice presidential candidate on the Progressive party ticket, says he is willing to take part in reorganization of the senate as a Democrat.

Taylor, interviewed yesterday with his presidential running mate, Henry A. Wallace, said:

"I was elected as a Democrat. The people in my state knew where I stand for. I intend to do all I can for the Progressive party and its program. But if they (senate Democratic leaders) want me, I'll be glad to help with the senate organization."

Eastern Dock Union Slating 'Long' Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — East coast dockworkers indicated today that they were ready for a long strike as Mayor William O'Dwyer met with Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's association (AFL) to discuss the walkout that has crippled east coast shipping.

The strike had idled 65,000 members of the union, including 45,000 longshoremen and 20,000 helpers and checkers, and threatened to idle thousands of more workers whose jobs depend on shipping.

Officials in Baltimore estimated that 8,000 men would be laid off five days this week if the strike continued. Some 90 ships were tied up in the Baltimore harbor, approximately 30 of them in the repair yards.

Rank-and-file members showed no inclination over the week-end to reduce their demands for a 50-cents an hour wage increase.

John J. Sampson, New York strike leader, said "the strike is solid. The men are determined to stick it out."

Many of Boston's 2,000 dock workers were reported seeking new jobs in anticipation of a "long strike" despite the optimism of John M. Bresnahan, acting director of the Boston port authority. Bresnahan said last night that "a good possibility" exists for settlement of a similar strike on the west coast "in the very near future" and that the Atlantic strike "might easily be settled soon after."

"We're still sitting tight pending word from New York and meetings on today," said Daniel J. Donovan, longshoremen's New England vice president.

Steps Are Taken To Insure Peace

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15 (AP) — Negotiators announced today they had taken steps to make peace last once the U.S.-Pacific west coast maritime strike is settled.

"Definite progress" in talks toward new contracts was reported by representative of the Waterfront Employers' association and the CIO longshoremen.

The post-strike peace plan calls for revised arbitration machinery to remove excuse of work stoppages by settling disputes on the local level wherever possible, a joint statement by the association and union said.

Some 28,000 workers are out in the strike involving five unions and tying up about 250 of the 375 dry cargo ships of west coast steamship companies. Employers estimate the strike is costing $4,000,000 a day.

Armistice for Israel, Arabs Is Demanded

PARIS, Nov. 15 (AP) — Canada demanded today that the United Nations order Jews and Arabs to negotiate an immediate armistice in Palestine.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton offered a new resolution to the security council following closely suggestions of acting mediator, Ralph Bunche.

The Canadian draft calls the Palestine situation a threat to peace. It said an armistice is a necessary bridge between the broken truce and a final settlement.

The resolution called on the Jews and Arabs to negotiate either directly or through Bunche to set up permanent armistice demarcation lines. It asked for a withdrawal and reduction of Israeli and Arab troops to maintain the armistice.

Informed circles said the United States has shown great interest in the original Bunche proposal to replace the truce with an armistice. These sources said U. S. delegation members talked with Israeli and some Arab delegates.

The general assembly's 58-nation political committee spent its first half hour arguing whether to begin debate on political questions in Palestine.

McNaughton, in the 11 nation security council, said he conferred with Belgium and France. He is known also to have consulted the U. S. and British. The council invited representatives of Israel, Egypt and Lebanon to the meeting.

Global Police Unit Urged by Grange

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 15 (AP) — The National Grange convention was told by one of its committees today to urge creation of an international police force to preserve world order.

Such a police force, the committee said, should be under control of a greatly-strengthened United Nations.

The convention will act on the report later in the week.

Western Allies Set Meet to Talk Over Latest Crisis Plan

PARIS, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — Top representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France will meet here tomorrow to decide how to reject the latest peace offensive in the cold war.

The United States and Great Britain want to reject it. France appeared not so certain.

All three must consider world opinion, especially that of small countries in the United Nations.

The problem to be decided was what temperature of cold water should be thrown on the efforts of Secretary General Trygve Lie and H. V. Evatt, president of assembly, to bring about at least a truce in the cold war. They called on the big four to meet at once and try to work out a solution for the Berlin crisis.

Now Consulting

High level consultations among the western big three delegations to the U. N. and their chief executives now were going on. The British cabinet considered the matter today. President Truman, on vacation in Key West, had been in direct touch with Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

Tomorrow Marshall, Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France and Hector MacNeil, representing Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain, will meet at the French foreign office to decide how to meet the Lie-Evatt move.

Remain Silent

Officially the big three remained discreetly silent. But spokesmen for the Anglo-Americans did not conceal their displeasure over the Lie-Evatt action. They believed its main effect was to bolster the kremlin's "peace offensive" giving it an aura of respectability it otherwise lacked. It already was labeled propaganda of a "very dangerous kind" by Marshall.

It posed a big dilemma for the west. It cannot merely dismiss the Lie-Evatt proposal as Soviet propaganda, even though it feels that the men in the kremlin must be chuckling and waiting for the strategic moment to capitalize on events of the past three days.

Witnesses Tell Of 'Premiums' On New Cars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP) — Two witnesses told a house committee today that they made $500 presents of "commission payments" when they bought new automobiles from a Washington firm.

The committee, headed by Representative Macey, R., N. Y., is investigating automobile trade practices. In a statement last week, the committee estimated that so far this year car buyers across the country have had to take $250,-000,000 worth of unwanted accessories and have lost $200,000,000 through under-valuing of traded-in cars.

Confined to Washington

The present hearings are confined to practices in the Washington area.

George C. Gilbert, president of Gilbert Systems International, Washington, testified that his company bought a new Oldsmobile last January from the Kearney Oldsmobile company, Washington, for $2,453.20, including extras, and gave an additional $500 commission.

Gilbert emphasized that he was not a voluntary witness, but had been subpoenaed. He said he had "no complaint to make about anything" and was satisfied with the transaction.

Paid for Procurement

He said the commission was paid in cash to Harry Kearney, one of the owners of the automobile company, "for performing a service and procuring a car for me."

"I was glad to pay it," Gilbert added.

Ben Cohn, Washington, said he helped a friend obtain a car from the Kearney company, and paid $500 extra as a "present" to the company's representative.

Joyous Britain Roars Greetings for Prince

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP) — Joyous Britain roared a welcome today to the tiny Prince of Edinburgh, first born of beloved Princess Elizabeth. He probably will be England's next king.

The "bonny lad," as Buckingham palace attendants called him, weighed seven pounds, six ounces at birth Sunday at 9:14 p. m.

Elizabeth, heiress-presumptive to the throne, and her son, who became second in line, both were declared in satisfactory condition.

The U. S. warships Columbus and Hamul joined British naval craft at Plymouth in firing a 41-gun salute to the royal child.

On royal horse artillery, King George's own troops, wheeled six guns into Hyde park and fired tumultous rounds in honor of the child and his mother. Elsewhere trumpets and bands blared; bonfire flames and fireworks snapped.

Born Near Anniversary

The baby was born six days before the first wedding anniversary of Elizabeth and Prince Philip. Crowds outside the palace screamed cheers to the nervous father last night.

The union jack whipped in the wind above Buckingham palace. Ships in London docks set their sirens screaming. Sailors got a double ration of rum.

The 12 bells of magnificent old St. Paul's cathedral began pealing in mid-morning. Bells of Westminster abbey and scores of lesser churches joined in.

Distant Cousin

The newest prince is a distant cousin of the crowned rulership of continental Europe. He is a great-great-grandson of Queen Victoria through both Elizabeth and Philip.

Through his father, the baby can claim as an ancestor Astrid, the sister of Canute, the king of both Britain and Denmark. The infant

Boise Man Is Valley's 37th Traffic Death

Magic Valley's traffic toll for 1948 rose to 37 Sunday when David Thomas Baxter, 45, Boise, died at 6:15 a. m. Sunday in the Twin Falls county hospital of injuries received in an automobile crash at 1 a. m. Friday three miles north of the Perrine Memorial bridge in Jerome county.

Baxter's 1949 Model

Baxter's 1949 model station wagon missed a curve on a rising hill, skidded about 200 feet before leaving the highway, rolled down an embankment and overturned once, state police said.

Still Hospitalized

Mrs. Baxter, who also was injured in the mishap, is still hospitalized. Her condition is described as good by her attending physician.

No other cars were involved in the accident. State police said excessive speed was the cause.

Mrs. Bailey, 1903, in Avery, Idaho, moved to Idaho in 1935 from California. He was a contractor.

Okay Is Seen For Truman's Controls Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — Sen. Scott W. Lucas, D., Ill., today predicted the new congress will give President Truman standby price control and rationing powers.

Lucas, who is in line to be Democratic majority leader, said farmers Mr. Truman probably will get these and most other points of his anti-inflation program "without too much opposition."

It appeared that any definite price legislation would have to await Mr. Truman's return to Washington from his Florida vacation.

Lucas said the election results very likely will be regarded by congress as a popular "mandate" for enactment of the anti-inflation program Mr. Truman often has asked for but never received.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., who is expected to head the joint economic committee, already has spoken out for restoration of the excess profits tax as one curb on high prices.

Democratic leaders reportedly will insist on a heavier Democratic majority on the tax-writing senate finance committee than was enjoyed by the Republicans in their days as a majority party. The 13-man committee was then split seven to six. But Democrats are said to be aimed at an eight to five margin to make more certain committee approval of the President's recommendations.

Meanwhile, O'Mahoney and Sen. Carl A. Hatch, D., N. M., criticized Harold E. Stassen for his charge that the President's campaign pledges would produce a "Truman depression" if translated into law.

Weather Forecast Hikes 'Lift' Hopes

BERLIN, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — Forecasts for clearing weather brought hope today that the Berlin airlift would swing back into high gear after being crippled since Friday.

Only a trickle of supplies reached the Soviet - blockaded city in the last three days. A low-hanging fog covered Berlin yesterday. The Frankfurt and Wiesbaden bases used by the American planes also were out of action much of the time.

TEACHER RECOVERING

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, the Russian schoolteacher whose leap for freedom from the Soviet consulate precipitated the breaking off of Russian-American consular relations, was reported nearly ready to leave Roosevelt hospital today.

Liberal and Left-Wing Politicos Claim Truman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (U.P.) — Liberal and left-wing political spokesmen are claiming President Truman today as their man.

They hold him to be committed by his campaign promises to a program of reform and spending more radical than any of FDR's new deals. The claim on Mr. Truman is based on the large share of credit due labor, independent liberals and organized new dealers for Democratic election triumphs.

The current publication of the smartly aggressive Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America significantly quotes Mr. Truman as saying labor elected him.

"And he is right," the editorial continues, "Labor is responsible. The people have voted for the platform of the Democratic party and the program of the CIO. It is for us and all labor to see that there is no faltering on the domestic program."

The organization of new dealers called Americans for Democratic Action states in its current publication that a combination or Mr. Truman, trade unions and independent liberals can re-make America.

Labor and organized new dealers are maneuvering now to collect their election debts from the President and the 81st congress. But there is much doubt here that Mr. Truman will be able to persuade the Democratic congress to go all the way with him on making campaign promises good.

Most of the leaders of organized labor and all the leaders of the Americans for Democratic Action loudly proclaimed Mr. Truman's nomination. He was charged with unfitness on grounds that he had schuttled the Roosevelt new deal and the prompt enactment of legislation for control of inflation, low-cost public housing and the enforcement of civil rights, for extended social security, compulsory health insurance and federal aid to education, for a 75-cent minimum wage, for national planning to insure permanent prosperity and for progressive taxation to finance these programs.

"That is the covenant for reform which Americans and their government intend to keep."

London newspapers were full of the event, which crowded world worries from the minds of Britons. Strangely, however, the communist Daily Worker gave the birth not a single line.

Congratulations Sent

The duke of Windsor, great uncle of the child, in Paris wished the baby "every possible happiness." The child doubtless will in time be named the Prince of Wales, a title last held by the duke before his brief reign as Edward VIII. President Truman sent congratulations. Prime Minister Attlee said, "I am delighted." King Frederik, Denmark, posted his note of congratulations with his own hand.

People of races all joined in the world wide jubilation.

'Abundance' Forecast for Farm Future

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Reporter

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 15—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan declares the Truman administration's future farm ipprograms will emphasize "abundant" production.

As a consequence, he said, both farmers and the government will have to learn to "live successfully with abundance."

Gives Cue

The cabinet officer gave this cue to future government farm policies in a speech at the National Grange convention.

Before the war, the Democratic administration farm programs employed production control and curtailment measures to combat surpluses and low farm prices.

Brannan said three things will be needed to make a program of full farm output work. He listed them as:

Lists Needs

1. Full employment and good wages for urban workers so that they might be good customers of the farmer.

2. An "adequate" export market.

3. Expansion in the present federal school lunch program and possibly new consumer subsidy programs to "take up the slack of commodities in temporary surplus and to place a floor under food consumption in times of low purchasing power."

Must Use Abundance

With an obvious emphasis on subsidized consumption, Brannan said that "if we are to have abundance, we must employ every reasonable means to assure a continued use of abundance."

Another problem facing farmers, he said, is a need of keeping the nation's land permanently productive.

The secretary did not elaborate on future farm programs in his speech.

Truman Retaining Legal Weapon for Controlling Lewis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP) — President Truman will keep a legal weapon to deal with John L. Lewis, even if the Taft-Hartley law is repealed, administratio nofficials said.

These officials said the Democratic congress will write into any new labor law a provision for dealing with strikes that affect the national health and safety.

There have been suggestions that any new labor statute set up a voluntary "cooling off" period and fact-finding procedures, similar to those in the railway labor act, when a strike threatens to bring about a national emergency.

However, Mr. Truman is expected to ask for some power—presumably authority to seek an injunction—against any union which refuses to use the voluntary procedures before striking. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has defied the Taft-Hartley law in his fights with the coal mine owners. Injunctions and the threat of injunctions from a federal court, however, have been used successfully to keep the miners at work.

Leaves on Mission

HEYBURN, Nov. 15 — Lynn A. Ravsten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Ravsten, has departed on a mission to the New England states for the LDS church.

A testimonial was held at the Heyburn ward chapel before he left. A large crowd attended.

Boyle Believes These 2 Tales 'New'—but Good Even if 'Old'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—Our menu for today is two short stories.

The friend who told them to me thought the stories were new and true. But a thing can be new and true to one person and old and false to another. How else can you explain love, hamburger and Santa Claus?

Hal Boyle

Personally, I have never heard the first story before. And it may be true. The second story—in one variation or another—has probably been told since the Greeks camped outside Troy.

But a restaurant can't change its whole bill of fare every day. And with that cautious preamble, let us go on to the stories:

A beautiful woman went into a fashionable Fifth avenue store to buy a new dress. There was a strangeness in her manner that caught the salesgirl's interest.

It was the woman's fixity of purpose. She seemed to know exactly what she wanted. When she had selected a dress, she went into another room to have it fitted.

"I want the sleeves here," she said, pointing to her arm. "And I want the skirt to fall exactly here." And she indicated the length.

The fitter looked up and objected politely:

"That isn't the way they are wearing them this year. It's out of fashion."

"I know," said the woman. "But I am going to San Francisco to meet my husband. He's been with the army overseas. Now he's coming home. And when I meet him I want to be dressed just as I was when I told him goodbye."

"Where has your husband been?" asked the fitter, pleasantly.

"Guadalcanal," replied the woman.

"All this time in Guadalcanal?" said the fitter.

"Yes."

And suddenly the fitter understood her mission. He bent to his task. He did not want to look up into the woman's eyes.

The locale of the other tale is Berlin.

A German family had been receiving gift packages from relatives in America to supplement their diet of potatoes, more potatoes—and still more potatoes.

In one box came a small package containing a mysterious powdery substance. There were no directions on the package on how to cook it, and the hausfrau was stumped.

"How shall I prepare it?" she asked. The family went into a huddle over the problem. It was an exciting problem—anything having to do with food is exciting in Germany.

Each member in turn examined the package.

"Perhaps," said the hausfrau doubtfully, "I should wait until I can write back and find out how it should be used."

This proposal was voted down immediately as a waste of time.

"The Americans eat so much dehydrated food," grumbled the husband. "It must be soup flavoring. Yes, that is it. Put it in the soup."

So into the soup pot it went. The family couldn't see that it added anything to the flavor, but they agreed it certainly was filling.

Two weeks later a letter from America arrived. It bore postmarks indicating it had been delayed en route.

The hausfrau — wives are well-trained in Germany — immediately brought the letter to her husband to open.

"The letter said:

"It is with much sadness we inform you that dear Uncle Fritz has passed away. Because of his long desire to return again to the fatherland, we had him cremated.

"We are sending his ashes in the next parcel.

Each battalion would have attached to it air planes and 12 pilots from the civil air patrol.

Equipped for Rescue

It would be equipped for rescue, first aid, fire fighting and other services required in an emergency.

The planning office report to Secretary of Defense Forrestal suggests assignment of seven battalions each to California and Pennsylvania, five to Ohio, and four each to New York and Texas.

Three battalions would be assigned each to Michigan and Illinois, and two each to Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maryland, Louisiana, Missouri and Minnesota.

Others One Battalion

Other states and territories would get one battalion.

In addition, class "B" units would be formed under state or local sponsorship—under control of state civil defense organizations—to furnish support.

The civil defense planners recommended that the new units be set up as speedily as equipment is available.

The units would include members of local police, fire and medical units, engineers to handle power, water and sanitary problems, trained experts to take care of emergency mass feeding, rescue and clearance squads, chemical decontamination workers and a minimum of three radio-logical defense teams in each battalion.

Prove for yourself what throat specialists reported when 30-day smoking test revealed

NO THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

MAKE YOUR OWN 30-DAY CAMEL MILDNESS TEST. Smoke Camels, and only Camels, for 30 days. Prove for yourself just how mild Camels are!

Hundreds of men and women, from coast to coast, recently made a similar test. They smoked an average of one to two packs of Camels a day for 30 days. Their throats were carefully examined by noted throat specialists. And after a total of 2470 exacting examinations—these throat specialists reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

But prove it yourself...in your "T-Zone" (T for Taste and T for Throat). Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about the rich, full flavor of Camel's choice tobaccos. Let YOUR OWN THROAT give the good news of Camel's cool, cool mildness.

Money-Back Guarantee!

Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage.

HOW DID HARRY DO IT?

The great new American game of "How Did He Do It?" is still being played all over the country. So we might as well adjust our hindsight binoculars and contribute our estimate of the people and things that contributed to the most unexpected presidential victory in the country's history.

1. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. The Republican candidate's dignified, almost smug over-confidence kept him from driving hard at the vulnerable spots in Mr. Truman's record.

2. The Republican 80th congress.

3. Henry Wallace. The progressive collapse of the "progressive" party turned the non-communist Wallace support right back to where it came from — the Democratic party.

4. The Dixiecrats. Though they took four and a fraction states, the issue which caused their revolt probably gathered Mr. Truman some extra votes up north.

5. The new deal. Mr. Truman was running largely on his predecessor's domestic program, and even more on congress' departure from that program.

6. Labor. Most union heads didn't put on a strong pro-Truman campaign, but their blasts at congress apparently served the same purpose.

7. The farmers. They never had it so good, so why switch horses in the midstream of prosperity?

8. The housewives. They're troubled over high prices. And while prices got high under the Truman administration, Mr. Dewey didn't offer them any special remedy for bringing them down.

9. The pollsters. Mr. Truman seemed to hit it right when he said that the polls were having the effect of sleeping pills. But the potion seemed to work on more Republicans than Democrats.

10. Harry S. Truman. This, of course, is the biggest factor. Before the Democratic convention last summer Mr. Truman couldn't have given himself away on a radio quiz show. Nobody wanted him. The extreme right and left of his party had turned against him. The big bosses like Flynn, O'Dwyer, Hague, Arvey, Crump and Jimmy Roosevelt openly snubbed him. Most of them only turned reluctantly back to the President when they could not persuade General Eisenhower or Justice Douglas to consider the nomination.

Mr. Truman must have been hurt and insulted by all this, but he never showed it. In public, at least, his confidence never cracked. It sometimes seemed that he alone would not admit his defeat in advance. He put on an exhausting, fighting campaign. It was the old-fashioned kind full of broad exaggerations and name-calling. But he also took up a lot of issues and discussed them thoroughly, if not always dispassionately.

Clearly it was the kind of campaign that a lot of people liked. There is a great appeal to Americans in the spectacle of the underdog who keeps on fighting even when he seems to be licked. Mr. Truman never gave up. His energy and determination and spunk paid off. And the victory brought the sudden and surprising revelation that the President is probably the smartest politician in the United States.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Slowly but surely Magic Valley is developing industrially, a trend which promises to balance even better our already prosperous economy based largely on agriculture.

One of the most recent industrial developments on a major scale is the construction of a new fertilizer factory at Wendell by the Gales brothers. The acid plant for this new factory, a picture of which appeared in the Times-News early last week, is a sizable industrial development in itself.

This fall also marks the opening of the Magic Valley Processing company's new potato starch plant in Twin Falls. For a number of years this has provided the solution to one of our chief agricultural problems —a market for cull potatoes.

At the outset there was some doubt as to whether the Magic Valley Processing company would prove economically sound. But now that it has built a large, ultra-modern plant there can be no doubt that the potato processing plant is here to stay.

Throughout the valley there are additional signs of industrial advancement, all of which give promise of an even more prosperous future.

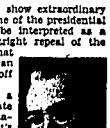

NO SALE

The faithful followers of the Vegetarian party may be disappointed in their presidential candidate's rather poor showing, but they mustn't be too surprised. For high prices had already stolen their thunder in many kitchens by replacing that famous "chicken in every pot" with a head of cabbage. The least that the meat-hungry electorate could do was refuse to accept this sad state of affairs as a national policy.

The popcorn business has reached almost $200,000,000 a year—and that ain't peanuts.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Many readers show extraordinary curiosity as to whether the outcome of the presidential and congressional contests can be interpreted as a mandate for immediate and drastic repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. They recall that President Truman highlighted an appeal for wiping this legislation off the books.

Ray Tucker

Answer: I do not believe that a careful analysis of the state-by-state voting warrants such an interpretation, although one of the President's first explanations of his triumph was: "Labor did it."

• • •

RURAL—Governor Dewey rolled up 133 of his total 189 electoral ballots in the highly industrialized commonwealths of Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Michigan. Labor leaders concentrated their campaign against the Republican nominee in this territory.

The only great industrial states which he lost, and even these have a larger rural population than urban, were Illinois and Ohio, with 53 electoral votes. On the other hand, he ran second in such agricultural sections as Iowa, Colorado, Minnesota and Wisconsin, where anti-union feeling was supposed to run high.

High farm prices, together with the fact that they had begun to fall off during the latter stages of the campaign, apparently influenced the farmers more than their supposed opposition to the T-H legislation.

• • •

MODIFICATION—In view of such an alignment it is hard to regard the result as repudiation of this statute. There is also the fact that enough original supporters of the law have been returned to block repeal in both chambers, unless there is a tremendous shift of sentiment. But perusal of these statistics may prevent any wholesale turnover.

It is possible, however, that certain provisions may be modified. Even Dewey suggested that he might have called a conference of management, labor and government officials to study the need for modification.

• • •

FACE—"What are politicians made of—stone or brass? How can the men who tried to ditch President Truman at Philadelphia ever look him in the face again?"

Answer: There is only one answer to this explosive outburst from R. O., Columbus, O. Most of them have a great deal of "stone and brass" in their makeup, or they would not survive in the political rough-and-tumble.

Frank Hague, New Jersey, for instance, declared in 1932 that Franklin D. Roosevelt would be an ignominious loser, and forecast that Mr. Truman would lose New Jersey by 300,000. But the Jersey City boss made a Roman spectacle of the President's visit to his barony, Ditto Jake Arvey, Chicago.

Many of the Truman cheer leaders at the "welcome home party" at the capital were leaders of the rebellious southern movement. In fact, several climbed aboard the train several hundred miles out so as to share the victor's triumph.

The ordinary amenities of normal human relationships just do not prevail in practical politics. In no walk of life, perhaps, is there such general and realistic practice of the biblical injunction: "Forgive thine enemies."

• • •

BOSSES—"In view of the fact that Mr. Truman would have won even without the support of the so-called political bosses," writes A. M., Brooklyn, "what future do they have ahead of them?"

Answer: Frankly, I think the five successive victories of FDR and Mr. Truman demonstrate that the old-fashioned vote-gathering politico is almost extinct, at least temporarily.

The most powerful voting groups today appear to be the workingmen, the farmers, the veterans, the small business men, women and certain professional groups such as schoolteachers, medicos of all kinds. They are more susceptible to issues affecting their security or livelihood than to partisan shibboleths or the crack-down of a political boss.

With the federal government furnishing them so much sustenance from the cradle to the grave, they can afford to thumb their noses at ward heelers and clubhouse leaders who are camouflaged Uncle Sam's assortment of benefits, subsidies and prerequisites.

• • •

BENEFICIARIES—Many GI's and former soldiers ask how to change the name of the beneficiaries of their wartime insurance policies. Some have married since signing up, and others have become divorced. Another group still in service wants to make a change because of the prospect that they may soon be sent overseas.

Answer: Write to the veterans administration office to which you are sending your premiums. Give the number of your policy, and explain clearly the change which you desire to make, giving the name of the new beneficiary. If possible, go to the nearest veterans administration contact office, and make the revision there. If you are still in the service, consult your personal affairs officer.

It is important that beneficiary changes be made if circumstances necessitate it. Government insurance cannot be transferred from one beneficiary to another by will without long delay and litigation that might eat up a large portion of the principal.

POWER SHORTAGE ACUTE

Here is new ammunition for speedup of McNary dam and other public and private power projects in the Pacific northwest:

A new, all-time peak load of 3.1 million kilowatts—117,000 greater than last winter's peak—was reported recently by Bonneville power administration for northwest power pool agencies. Trouble is this year's peak came approximately a month earlier than anticipated and brought a huddle of public and private power agencies at Tacoma where rationing plans were perfected.

First to feel the pinch will be the aluminum industry, largest single power user in the region. A cut of 84,000 kilowatts between 5 and 7 p.m. daily is in prospect for aluminum reduction plants at Troutdale, Longview, Vancouver and Spokane. And plans for staggering shifts in big industrial plants, as a means of saving power for peak demand periods, are to be perfected.

Most graphic example of increased demand on a balanced system was provided by Portland General Electric company which reported an all-time peak demand of more than 400,000 kilowatts last Monday between 5 and 6 p.m. This compares with a prewar peak load of approximately 165,000 kilowatts.

Pacific northwest power users are not expected to face as critical power conditions as British power users who are taking an arbitrary cut of 20 per cent all over the newly nationalized system this winter. Over there violators of compulsory power restrictions may be fined up to $2,000 or sent to prison for two years.

But the situation is critical enough here to warrant the immediate attention of the 81st congress which will be asked for supplemental appropriations for McNary dam. These requests cannot be ignored, coming as they do, from the fastest growing region in America.—Oregon Journal.

NEW USE FOR TANKS

War-torn Sherman tanks now are battling for peace in east Africa. Stripped of formidable armor and fitted with reconstructed machinery, these war dogs have been tamed into heavy tractor-type vehicles for service on the mottled fields of Tanganyika territory, where Great Britain seeks to obtain a new source to augment a dwindling fat supply. When the campaign against surly nature is completed east Africa will have a series of vast mechanized peanut farms of three and one-quarter million acres.

The British information service points out that the peanut-raising project resembles military warfare in that it is daring, success is difficult and the effects are likely to be breathtaking. In terms of size it is hoped to establish in a desolate, mainly uninhabited land groups of plantations larger than the average of peanuts picked and threshed in the United States in 1947. From the extra contribution of fats and oils it is expected that each person in Britain, now receiving about eight ounces of fat weekly under the rationing system, will receive at least 25 per cent more.—New York Times.

We were talking to a substitute teacher the other day. She wasn't too happy with her substituting work, but was looking forward to the end of classes that day. We gathered she'd had a little difficulty in handling her temporary charges, because she was relieved to know her substituting duties would end that afternoon. Here's what she said:

"At 3:30 this afternoon, I'm going to get a ballbat and walk up and down the aisles announcing my resignation."

Pounding the lesson home, as it were.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

". . . 'Twas a fine season — he bagged a goose on the last day."
GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

BOB HOPE

What a reception President Truman received in Washington. From every window people were throwing confetti . . . streamers . . . Republicans.

But those Republicans were really confident they'd win. When Truman got to the White House the next day, he found the GOP elephant in the parlor. President Truman said: "You will have to get out of here." And the elephant said: "No sir, I laid this egg and I'm gonna stay here until I hatch it."

Bob Hope

A lot of Dewey backers were terribly upset about the outcome. John L. Lewis was so disappointed, he is now wearing his eyebrows at half mast.

And as soon as Dewey knew he'd lost, he went back to his farm and started milking his cows. One of them turned around and said, "What are you doing here? Early this morning we sent the stuff to Washington."

Republican leaders are now afraid that President Truman and the Democratic congress will try to repeal some of the Republican legislation. As a matter of fact, right after the election senator Taft was seen crossing the Mexican border with Hartley in a suitcase.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Excuse me, stranger, but I understand you voted for Truman because you were against the Taft-Hartley law. It makes no difference to me that you voted for Truman, but why did you want to repeal this law?

Oh, so it is a slave-labor law. You never read it, but you took the word of the union crooks and dictators who are subject to it.

Westbrook Pegler

Burglars are against the laws which cramp their style, too.

This T-H law requires union bosses to swear, under penalties for perjury, that they are not communists. If they want the services of the labor board.

And, you object to that, in principle, because it might interfere with your political freedom. All right, on that point, let me tell you what your union can do to you.

• • •

A few years ago, Harry Bridges was up for deportation as a communist. Philip Murray, the president of the CIO, put his name on a booklet calling this deportation a dirty outrage. The deportation was stopped by Roosevelt's supreme court and Bridges grew stronger than ever.

Last winter, Bridges decided to support Henry Wallace for President. He had a right to support Wallace even though he was the communists' candidate. But now the CIO abruptly fired this non-communist for supporting a candidate who also denied that he was a communist and who possessed very cordial credentials from F. D. Roosevelt.

Murray named in place of Bridges one Timothy Flynn, Worchester, Mass. I have made five trips to Worcester gathering material for a success story on Tim Flynn's career.

My inquiries have revolved around police headquarters and I would thank Mr. Flynn, the west coast director of the CIO, for a few of his fingerprints, although one would really be enough. I just save fingerprints. It is a hobby, like stamps and autographs. I already have Mr. Flynn's photograph.

• • •

But to return to the arbitrary displacement of Bridges by the premature saint, Phil Murray, how did you like that kind of political freedom?

And remember, any union can do this without interference by any law.

The reverse of this is that any communist union can fire you out of union office for supporting a Republican—or Democratic — candidate.

Or expel you from ordinary working membership and thus run you off the job and keep you out of work forever, for opening your big, dumb trap in favor of any anti-communist candidate. They call that "disruption" or "un-unionlike activity."

The racketeers use the same trick to protect their rackets. You may have been too young or too dumb to know what went on at the time, but I helped send a lot of racketeers to prison for kicking people like you around, and I have made a study of their tricks.

I exposed them first. Sure I did. Scalise, Browns and Bioff. Joe Fay. Jim Bove. I never could get greasy Joe Moreschi of the hod-carriers, though.

They indicted him, but then they kicked the case around for years and he finally wiggled away although they slightly nicked his crooked kid, Faust. The department of justice could have tried harder.

• • •

These racketeers can throw you out of a union for "disruption," "un-unionlike activity" and such-like monkey-business if you merely demand a roll-call, an election or an accounting.

Moreschi's racket didn't hold an election for 31 years. About a million workmen had to pay initiation of $50 on the average, plus fees and shakedown, to a succession of the damnedest thieves you ever saw, in the course of those 31 years.

Two president-gangsters died and finally greasy Joe muscled in, all without a single ballot from more than a million dumb, pick-and-shovel joes. And you let Truman and the racketeers tell you Taft-Hartley is a slave labor law.

Here are some gimmicks in a typical AFL constitution. These are from the constitution of local 1 of Wine, Liquor and Distiller Workers in New York, run by a thief so low that he even racketeers in charity.

Under these gimmicks any member can be expelled by Ben Proes and the controlling mob for any act of "insubordination;" for conduct "discreditable" to the union; for endeavoring to create "dissension," tion of Labor and the Roosevelt-Truman labor policy, a dirty Russian-born jail-bird, and a two-time loser at that, and a member of an old family ring of bankruptcy swindlers can toss you around like that.

If you go bleating to the United States attorney you can't even get in. If you raise a row demanding your rights, the marshal will throw you downstairs. Because Ben Proes is one of Bill Green's AFL racketeers and Green is a Roosevelt-Truman "labor" faker.

Taft-Hartley never let anyone do these things to you, but you seem too stupid to know that.

Elsie Lingren Is Guest Speaker at AAUW Meet

Elsie Lindgren was the guest speaker at the joint meeting of the Gooding and Twin Falls branches of the American Association of University Women at a 1 p.m. luncheon Saturday at the American Legion hall.

Mrs. Russell Miller, president of the Twin Falls branch, introduced the Gooding branch president, Mrs. Fred Barrett, who in turn presented the Gooding officers.

Mrs. R. N. White, secretary of the Gooding branch, gave a brief report of the executive board meeting in Boise last month. She spoke of the endeavor the association is making to raise the standards of universities, and of the fact as the reason eligibility requirements of AAUW are high. She announced that the national convention of the association will be held in Seattle next June, and urged a good attendance of members from Idaho.

Mrs. Vera C. O'Leary, Twin Falls education chairman, asked for a report on the AAUW educational questionnaire.

The musical program, arranged by Mrs. Thomas Peavey, consisted of two vocal numbers, "Sextet" from Lucia and the Negro spiritual "Steal Away to Jesus" given by a quartet which included Mrs. Peavey, Mrs. Max Brown, James Reynolds and Allen Duvall. Mrs. O. P. Duvall accompanied.

The guest speaker, Elsie Lindgren, who attended the UNESCO session at San Francisco as inspirational and stimulating. She explained that the United Nations Educationnl Scientific and Cultural Organization is one of the agencies of the United Nations with its permanent headquarters in Paris, France. Its purpose is the establishment of permanent world peace, through education, science and the sharing of culture. Miss Lindgren quoted from the preamble of the organization, "Since wars begin in the minds of men, it is in the minds of men that the defenses of peace must be constructed."

She spoke of the two prominent women, Dr. Vera Dean and Dr. Margaret Mead, who addressed the meeting. She also told of the earnestness displayed by these and other speakers. She called the group a workshop of sober-minded men and women, deeply concerned with the problems of establishing one world, rather than the alternate no world.

Miss Lindgren also presented a six-point program on what people can do to insure peace. These are to help in the work of reconstruction of the educational facilities of war devastated countries; make your personal opinions felt in your community; help arrange projects, exhibits, displays, radio programs to help in the understanding and appreciation of other nations and other races; take active part in the training of young people in tolerance, for "attitudes are caught, not taught;" join in the stimulating adventure of world education, and encourage members of minority groups to take part in discussion and plans.

Top Grid Teams Relax After Wins

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (U.P.)—The five teams which rank as the leading contenders for the oh-so-mythical national collegiate football championship could afford to relax just a little today—the worst was over. That was a comforting thought for at least three of the quintet — Notre Dame, Army, and Clemson — who needed fourth period rallies to stay unbeaten last Saturday. From here on, the competition didn't look nearly so tough.

This week contender California closes out its season with Stanford, a team that can be stubborn but probably will prove an easy mark. The Golden Bears, with a 5-0 record in the Pacific Coast conference after beating Washington State, 44-14, will be trying for an impressive performance that might lock up the Rose bowl bid.

Michigan, 54-0 winner over Indiana, will wind up proceedings for the year (being barred from Rose bowl because they played in it last year) by playing Ohio State this week-end in a Big Nine tilt. Clemson, which beat Wake-Forest 21-14, will go out of the Southeastern conference to meet independent Duquesne.

While neither California, Michigan, or Clemson figured on much trouble this Saturday, Army and Notre Dame have it even easier—an off day. The Kaydets, who dumped Penn 26-20, will be polishing up their two platoons for what promises to be a field day against winless Navy next week. Notre Dame, victor over Northwestern 12-7, still has Washington and Southern California to meet.

In the Pacific Coast conference, Oregon (6-0) will try to earn the bowl bid by trampling Oregon State, while California meets with Stanford. Southern California (3-2) faces USLA (2-5).

Red Rolfe Named New Tribe Pilot

DETROIT, Nov. 15 (U.P.)—The Detroit Tigers today named Robert A. (Red) Rolfe manager of their baseball team.

A former Yankee star, Rolfe in 1947 was named director of the Tigers' minor league farm system.

He succeeds Steve O'Neill, whose contract was not renewed.

No salary details were revealed by General Manager Billy Evans as he announced that Rolfe had received the managerial assignment.

Bookies Lose On Choices of Grid Winners

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (U.P.)—Football betting has meant so little business in recent weeks that bookmakers, at least in New York, have started wagering against each other.

"Most of the bettors took a bath during the baseball season. Those that had any cash left by mid-September lost it all on the Tony Zale-Marcel Cerdan fight. There hasn't been any fresh money since," one of the bet-takers said.

A survey of New York betting was made after two successive Saturdays in which the college results followed expectations almost exactly.

On Oct. 30 a Denver tailor lost more than 400 suits to contestants in his radio guessing contest. Latter 91 persons at St. Paul guessed correctly the outcome of 20 games and the Pioneer Press paid out $9,240.50 to them. It was the first time in more than seven years that anyone had won.

The bookmaker, who wouldn't give his name, said his group sought football business at the start of the season. Most of it, however, was placed on favorites, with the result that bets no longer are being sought.

The bookmaker said that a Jersey betting organization won $350,000 on Cerdan's surprise knockout of Zale in the middleweight title bout but had lost virtually all of it by trying to outsmart other bookmakers in football.

Winners Picked For Deer Horn Contest at G. F.

GLENNS FERRY, Nov. 15—Paul Herron and Golden Lish captured first place honors in a deer horn contest held here. Herron's entry measured 41 inches, combined width and height, and Lish's entry was judged the most unusual.

Lish's deer had a total of 18 points, 11 on one side and seven on the other.

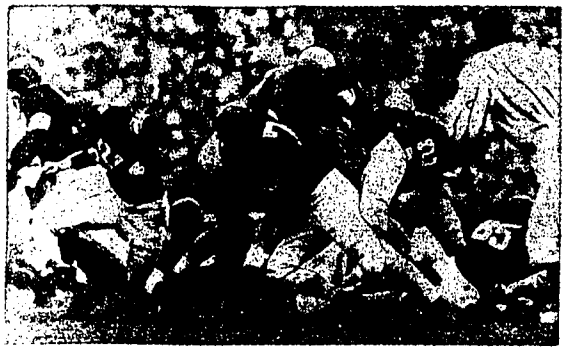

Other entrants included W. R. Campbell, with a 40½ inch measurement, Myrrl Darling, 40¾ inches, and A. M. Equsquire, 39 inches. Judges were George Rosevear and Slim Collins.

The contest was sponsored by R. K. Johnson, owner of the Ferry Cold Storage plant. He plans to conduct the contest annually.

The Philadelphia Eagles have won five of the last six games played against the Washington Redskins.

Filer Tackles Boise Eleven In Last Game

FILER, Nov. 15 — Filer high school's Wildcats will play host to a potent Boise high school eleven here at 2 p. m. Saturday in the last grid contest on the 1948 Magic Valley schedule.

Filer, co-champions of the Big Seven along with Buhl, will be out to even the score for Magic Valley with the Braves. Boise edged Twin Falls last Thursday in Boise by a count of 27-25.

At Full Strength

Coach Mac Flennikken's highly rated team will be at full strength for the contest, for the first time since the beginning of the season. Hard hitting Eddie Johnson, defensive spark for the Wildcats, is expected to be back in action.

Johnson missed the tilt with Kimberly on Armistice day and his blocking and tackling was missed by the Wildcats.

Additional Seats

In order to accommodate the anticipated large crowd, additional bleachers will be placed on the Filer field. A large crowd is expected for the last high school battle in the area.

In the previous games between the two schools, Filer has won three out of the five grid contests.

The last game in 1934 went to the Braves by a score of 30-0. In 1933 Filer came out on top of a 14-6 score. Boise won in 1932 12-0 and the Wildcats were victorious in 1931 and 1930 by scores of 12-0 and 18-12.

Browns Take Pro Loop Lead

By United Press

The unbeaten Cleveland Browns, aiming for their third straight All-America football conference championship, were a lot closer to it as a result of their spine-tingling 14 to 7 triumph over the previously unbeaten San Francisco Forty-Niners Sunday.

Now all the Browns have to worry about is another game with the Forty-Niners on Nov. 28—plus the three other games left on their schedule.

A crowd of 82,700, largest ever to see a professional football game, packed Cleveland's municipal stadium.

Their leading margin wasn't much—in fact it couldn't be slimmer—but the high-flying Philadelphia Eagles still were alone atop the eastern division of the National football league while Chicago's Bears and Cardinals were in a deadlock for first in the west.

For the third time this year the eager Eagles marked a 45-0 score up on the slate as they drubbed the Boston Yanks. That kept them just a half-jump ahead of the Washington Redskins and their Sammy Baugh.

Meanwhile the Bears barely beat Green Bay, 7 to 6, and the Cards tripped the Pittsburgh Steelers, 24 to 7.

For the Eagles, the chief story was the passing of Tommy Thompson, aided by the running of Steve Van Buren. Thompson shot four touchdown passes of 70, 26, 20, and two yards while Van Buren contributed 134 yards on the ground. It was the Eagles' sixth win against one loss and a tie.

Oregon Backers Ask Grid Playoff

By HAL WOOD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15 (U.P.)—University of Oregon backers Monday clamored for a precedent-setting Pacific Coast conference play-off between the Webfoots and University of California to select a PCC representative to the Rose bowl—but Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf could see no sense in such a procedure.

Pappy said his "big bad Bears" weren't afraid of anybody — especially Oregon — but the conference rules specifically set up a procedure for selecting a bowl representative—and it wasn't by a play-off.

"Neither California nor Oregon would have any right to schedule such a play-off," said Waldorf. "The conference has set up the machinery for just such an eventuality, which is the voting system."

PCC Commissioner Vic Schmidt said in Los Angeles that he had not been asked by either school to consider such a play-off.

"And I won't make any comment on the subject until there is such a request," he said. "There is no precedent for a play-off."

Meanwhile, the Bears and the Webfoots rested on their laurels after top-sided week-end victories. The Bears swamped Washington State, 44-14; and Oregon thumped UCLA, 20-7.

However, all the demands for a play-off are a bit premature in view of the fact that each school has one very important contest still on the schedule. The Bears, with 13 straight victories behind them, battle Stanford, which eased over Montana, 20-7, in the annual big game on Saturday. In the past, previous records mean nothing in this tilt.

Oregon has the same set-up in the north. The Webfoots face their traditional foe, Oregon State. The Beavers tied with Utah, 20-20, on Saturday and in recent years have been thumping the Webfoots more often than they lost.

Gains were from fractions to more than a point with some of the leaders pushing to around 2 points. The advance was general, although last minute profit taking cut the tops from the highest prices.

Rails, steels and metals were among the best groups. Motors and oils lagged behind for a part of the day.

Dupont was up more than 2 points at one time after a year-end profit dividend of $3.75. Baltimore and Ohio common was up nearly 1 point and preferred around 3 during the day after a dividend of $1 on preferred, the first preferred payment declared since 1931.

Lower were Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical and Transcontinental Western Air.

Judging; Sale Are Features Of Utah Show

OGDEN, Nov. 15 (AP)—Ogden livestock show exhibitors and spectators divided their attention between the judging rings and auction arena today as the five-day exposition neared the half-way point.

Judge Dick Richards, Prairie City, Ore., spent a busy Monday morning selecting best entries in the shorthorn bull classes, looking over exhibits from five states. This afternoon he was to place winners in the female of the breed and then find the class winners among the Aberdeen-Angus exhibits.

Sheep on Block

The auction arena drew its first crowd this morning when more than 100 purebred Columbia sheep were put on the block in a sale sponsored by the Western Columbia Sheep Breeders' association.

The sheep sales were to continue later in the day with offerings of purebred Suffolks, under auspices of the American Sheep society. The Suffolk sale is being conducted for the first time as a part of the Ogden stock show program.

Hereford Auction Set

The big event of Tuesday is the auction of more than 300 head of purebred Hereford cattle, starting at 10 a. m., sponsored by the Intermountain Hereford Breeders' association. The offerings will be in pens of five and pens of threes, in both bulls and heifers, along with a large assortment of herd sires and matrons to be sold singly.

Today's first big winner was "Braedoon's Nugget," an entry of the Wilbur P. Springs and sons herd, Belgrade, Mont., crowned champion bull of the shorthorn breed. A Utahn, H. L. Barnes and sons, Peterson, had the breed's reserve champion bull, "Roger Perfect."

Bridge Plans To Be Viewed At State Meet

RUPERT, Nov. 15—Efforts to obtain action in replacing the condemned Downard bridge over Snake river near here will be made this week by members of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce, Charles Whittaker, chamber secretary, announced.

A delegation from the group is slated to meet with the state highway department some time this week. Minidoka County Rep. Tom Bell will aid the chamber in talks with the highway department.

Surveys Made

Federal and state surveys already have been made for the new bridge site, south of the present structure on the Albion highway. The chamber hopes to have the proposed bridge, which will serve a new highway, constructed ahead of schedule.

The condemned Jackson bridge also will be discussed with highway officials.

Decorations Discussed

Members of the chamber discussed Christmas decorations at their last meeting. Whittaker is contracting local merchants to establish a special street decoration fund.

It was reported that a franchise had been granted the Sun Valley bus lines for the route formerly used by the Twin Falls-Wells bus line to Rupert.

Last-Minute Pact Stops Bus Tieup

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15 (AP)—A last-minute agreement averted a Pacific Greyhound bus strike scheduled for 12:01 a.m. today in seven western states.

Negotiators for 3,400 AFL bus drivers and station employes lifted the strike call pending a vote of the membership on the tentative agreement.

No details were released. The last wage offer for drivers announced by the company was 6.3 cents per mile or $1.32 an hour, whichever is greater for inter-city drivers—with a minimum of $11.28 a day guaranteed. Present wages are 6 cents a mile or $1.25 an hour, with a $10.48 minimum.

The union members operate buses and maintain stations for Greyhound in California, Oregon, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Texas.

Baptist Pastors Hold Meet Here

Pastors of six Magic Valley Baptist churches and their "guest crusaders" attended a breakfast conference at the Rogerson hotel coffee shop Monday morning in conjunction with the Baptist Crusade for Christ through evangelism program.

Purpose of the campaign is to bring the message of Christ to non-church people. Progress will be reported by pastors at a breakfast each morning.

A home visitation phase of the campaign started Monday and will continue Tuesday and Wednesday. The preaching phase of the drive will be held Thursday and Friday with the crusade scheduled to end Sunday.

Eagles Hall Fire Probed in Ogden

OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 15 (UP) — Ogden officials today were investigating causes of the fire yesterday which destroyed the interior of the Eagles lodge hall and left only the blackened walls standing.

The historic building was only recently acquired by the city's aerie of Eagles.

Loss was thought to be somewhere around $150,000.

The fire was believed to have stared in the front attic section of the building. It spread rapidly through the whole structure moving to the back, which was least damaged.

Lodge officers said the loss was more than the $75,000 insurance on the building and the $15,000 on its contents.

Former Resident Passes on Coast

In addition to her husband and sister, she is survived by two daughters living in Maryland and California. She will be buried Wednesday in Caldwell.

Reporter Finds Pinball Devices Have Bad Odds

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 15 (AP)—A newspaper reporter, with an electrician for interpreter, "interviewed" some of Salt Lake county's 300-odd impounded pinball machines—and concluded that people who play the machines should study up a bit on the law of averages.

The law of averages, that is, as influenced by such extraneous items as hidden magnets and other fixing devices.

The examination disclosed that one of the machines—of the type which is supposed to improve the player's odds as additional coins are inserted—had at least four places where the odds could be adjusted, in addition to hidden magnets.

The machine gave the player but one chance in 500 in winning 40 nickles. The player had one chance in 35 of winning two nickels.

The machine, which the reporter described as a "taproom stickup artist," showed the number 91,012 on its intake numbering meter, and 1,604 on its pay-off meter.

And what kind of odds is that?

The machines were confiscated by the Salt Lake county grand jury during an investigation of gambling.

Name Changed by Shamrock Group

The Shamrock Assembly has voted to change the organization's name to the Community Children's Benefit association. The organization is composed of parents of children attending the Shamrock school.

Functions of the group will be similar to those of a PTA unit.

The Community CBA voted to move playground equipment from the Mountain View and Allendale schools to the Shamrock schools. Because of consolidation, the Mountain View and Allendale schools are no longer being used.

A committee was appointed to serve lunch at a farm sale Tuesday. Following the business meeting, the program committee presented entertainment. Refreaments were served.

President Robert Rayl, jr., was in charge of the meeting.

Air Force Drops Lost Men Search

LEWISTON, Nov. 15 (UP)—Air force fliers have abandoned the search for Joe Rosencranz and W. J. Bolick, Lewiston businessmen missing in a small plane since Oct. 24.

The air force decided to give up the search in the rugged Selway river area Saturday, and all 12 air force planes involved in the search were gone by last night, Lieut. Don Copenhaber announced today.

Copenhaber himself was on his way back to McChord Field, Tacoma, Wash., to aid in a search being conducted by the air force near Vancouver, B. C.

Big Turnover Of Judiciary Faces Solons

BOISE, Nov. 15 (AP) — Idaho is faced with the greatest turnover in its judiciary since statehood—resulting in a major problem for the legislature convening in January.

Gov. C. A. Robins, in office less than 23 months, has had to fill three judicial vacancies, and there are at least three similar decisions to come.

But that is not the whole story.

Four Ineligibles

At least three district judges and one supreme court justice will not be eligible for reelection in 1950 under the law making retirement of judges compulsory at the age of 70.

Attorneys, and state officials who are not attorneys, are quite frank in saying the situation presents a serious obstacle to speedy, reasonable administration of justice.

3 Appointments Made

Death necessitated the three appointments already made by Governor Robins. Another vacancy exists because of the death of Judge Miles S. Johnson at Lewiston.

Paul Hyatt was named to the supreme court to succeed the late Justice James F. Ailshie. Hugh Baker was named to succeed the late District Judge T. Bailey Lee of Burley and Preston Thatcher of Salmon was appointed to succeed the late District Judge Guy Stevens at Blackfoot.

Must Find Successor

Immediately after January 1 Governor Robins has to find a successor to Justice Bert H. Miller on the supreme court. Judge Miller was the successful Democratic candidate for the United States senate.

There will be a vacancy in the 11th judicial district at the same time when District Judge James W. Porter of Twin Falls succeeds Justice Alfred Budge on the supreme court. Budge also came under the compulsory retirement law provisions.

Resignations Possible

Then, there could be resignations or other deaths to further complicate the situation.

Supreme court vacancies, customarily, have been filled from the ranks of district judges, with attorneys recommended by the bar named to fill the district bench.

Hailey Units Plan July 4 Programs

HAILEY, Nov. 15—Plans for a big-scale July 4 celebration here are being drafted by delegates of the city council, Chamber of Commerce, Sawtooth Rangers Riding club and American Legion.

The riding club agreed at a recent meeting to manage the rodeo. The Legion is to arrange for the carnival, parade and other features in town.

Representing the riding club are William Uhrig, Wayne Clark, H. E. Glenn and Rupert House.

At the meeting the club also agreed the club should incorporate. Charles Harris was added to the board of directors to form the necessary four-man commission. Others are Waller Stewart, Clark and House.

Hailey Men Attend Scottish Rite Parley

HAILEY, Nov. 15—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Fuld and Leon Friedman will attend the Scottish Rite reunion in Boise this week.

Candidates also planning to attend are Berwyn Burke, Hailey; Hal Wallington, Ketchum, and Milton Schaefer, Bellevue. Mrs. Schaefer will accompany her husband.

Castleford Births

CASTLEFORD, Nov. 15 — Recent births to local residents and former residents include:

A son on Nov. 4 to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson.

A son on Oct. 29 to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coval.

A son on Nov. 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Nielson, Pocatello. She was the former Maxine Peterson.

A son on Nov. 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Sacramento, Calif. Both are former residents. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kinyon.

Henry's Enthralled by Japan's Cormorant Method of Fishing

By HENRY McLEMORE

GIFU, Japan—Of all the magnificent, spectacularly beautiful things we have seen on this trip around the world, certainly cormorant fishing on the Nagara-gawa river in Gifu rates among the first half dozen.

McLemore

We couldn't quite understand it when dozens of our friends in Japan told us that we must not leave the country without seeing the cormorants at work. Now, having seen them and the amazing men who handle them, we would give the same advice to anyone planning a trip to Japan.

The river has a fairyland appearance even before the fishing boats appear. About 9 o'clock at night the sightseeing boats take off from docks all along the narrow river. They are open launches decorated with willow branches, flowers, and Japanese lanterns. They are poled to a meeting place in the shallow river where they are joined by fireworks boats. The experts on the fireworks boats light the sky and the water with all sorts of rockets, Roman candles, and a device which, when thrown in the water, breaks into many multi-colored fish which zig and zag among the boats.

The fireworks display is perfectly timed. Just when the last light has flickered away and the river is dark, the fishing boats, four abreast, come around the bend. For a minute or two the fishing boats, with their huge firebaskets swung out over the prows, look like four blazing setting suns approaching.

The firebaskets are as big as laundry baskets, and are filled with flaming firewood. They furnish the light for the cormorants to fish. Soon the outlines of the boats become clear and you can see the eager cormorants perched on the rails, flapping their wings and shrilling in their eagerness to get to fishing.

In the front of the oar-propelled boats stand the head fishermen, known as ushos. It is no easy task to become an usho. There are no short cuts. An usho must spend something like 20 years at night school—usually under the tutelage of his father or grandfather, as the art of cormorant fishing is handed down from generation to generation. If an usho does not have a son he always adopts one to carry on the line.

One of the boats we watched had as its usho, Kanji Yamashita, the master of them all. He is the 17th usho in his family line, and two of his seven sons ride his boat as apprentices.

Cormorants like to fish even more than bird dogs like to hunt. When the usho is harnessing them they fight to get out of his hands and into the water. It is not a cruel business at all. Although a light rope is tied around the cormorant's throat to prevent him from swallowing his catch, he knows that when his night's work is over, he'll be fed until he can't eat any more.

There is tremendous rivalry among cormorants. Each one somehow keeps track of the number of fish the other birds are catching. In a fishing boat there is a basket for each bird's catch, and he views it before hopping on the rail at the end of the night's work. His place on the rail is determined by his ability to catch fish. If his place on the rail has been No. 10, say, and he outfishes cormorant No. 9, the next time out he takes No. 9's place and shoves No. 9 to place No. 10. If the bird who is being demoted puts up a squawk all the other cormorants who, for some bird reason know what has happened, will pitch in and make the demoted cormorant accept his drop in rank.

The only cormorant whose position is never questioned is the senior bird by age. He occupies the No. 1 slot as long as he is able to fish. He may be outfished every night, but the other birds respect his seniority and years of fishing, and let him alone.

I'll have to do another story on cormorant fishing. There is too much to tell at one whack.
